12/807 is due

Sunday 13th November 2016
18.00 (Australian Time)

GM Messages

Payment

A reminder that payment for TN is in the currency of the country you are in. For example, USA players are charged in $US.

Special Hexes

If you have a unit on one of these hexes and are asking for details please make sure you quote the unit numbers.

Furrying in Winter

Please don't assign less than 10 people, it will glitch the system (as it did).

Movement

HSM: High Mountains: sometimes cannot be entered but sometimes can.

After Move Transfers

After quite a deal of lead in time these will no longer be possible as from 10 807.

Orders Template

Newer players should ask for a slightly more detailed version once they are a few turns in.

Naval Movement

There is a module bug that sometimes allows Fleets to move through 1 hex wide peninsulas - the module allows this (and sometimes I miss it) - if this happens it happens - but I also rely on players who are familiar with the terrain to not do this deliberately. There are other spots where Fleets might loop and essentially go nowhere. These situations should be seen as par for the course when you are sailing into unknown terrain (historically, uncharted sea exploration was very dangerous). The bottom line is that you should sort these things out for yourself rather than alerting the GM to the fact that you did not move as intended. When you traverse the same waters a second time you should be able to construct Orders that bypass these problems.

Elements

Free Element for new players.

New players are entitled to one Element (split from the main Tribe free of any Admin levels (that is, at Adm0). And also the Trade Element. So if you have a Trade Element, a free Element and 2 normal Elements your main Tribe is entitled to four Elements.

Reports

The usual time for Reports to be sent to players is Friday Australian time.

The earlier I receive Orders the better the chances of me meeting this deadline. So if you complete your Orders prior to the due date please send them in.

Orders/Email

Please include (only) your Clan Number as the Subject line and the title of the Attached File when sending Orders. For example, 0100.

Preferred Format for Orders is Times New Roman 11 or 12 using Excel (though Word6 and beyond is acceptable). It is my preference that Orders are not sent in the same email with questions/comments etc. Please send the latter in a separate email.

Contributions to Facebook/TribeNews

Contributors will earn 2 gold or 2 Jade per story and 1 per picture/image. No more than one or the other per turn.

There's Always Time for Respect

Dainamuck and his friend Buddy were enjoying Deer Hunting not far from the Tribe's encampment. They were after trophy deer, not just provisions, guts, bones and skins.

They'd been in position for most of 4 hours so far, sipping on creek water from bladder canteens and chewing on the wicked fire roots found in the jungles around them.

Out of the brush first a shadow moved, then a huge buck walked by and Dainamuck quietly drew his bow and took careful aim.

Before he could release his arrow, Buddy pointed at a funeral procession passing on the trail below their position.

The hunter slowly let off the pressure on his bow, took off his hood, bowed his head and closed his eyes in prayer.

Buddy was amazed. "Wow, that is the most thoughtful and touching thing I have ever seen. You are the kindest man I have ever known."

Dainamuck shrugged. "Yeah, well, we were married for 35 years."

The tribe was busy setting up the tents - it had been many days of travelling and Osman was glad of the chance to settle down for a while.

"Ergut - tell me again what these locals are asking?"

"My chief, they are asking us to build them a meeting house."

"What is a meeting house? Sounds like something you might build with those tree things we have heard about? We have no idea how to do anything they are asking!"

"They don't know that - I guess they are just asking everyone who passes by, hoping someone will take pity on them. And we do have those strays we picked up a while back - there are 10 of them who swear they know something about cutting down trees."

"Well, I don't want everyone to find out that the Kayi do not know things that even a bunch of ignorant locals already know. Tell them we would be happy to build it for them - we will be back soon. But there has to be something in it for us, perhaps a marriage alliance so we have some extra wives for the leading men of the tribe, eh Ergut?"

Ergut smiled. "That will certainly help motivate the sub-chiefs, o mighty Osman, as well as helping our clan to grow. I will get our smartest guys onto figuring out how we can do this."

As Ergut left, Osman mused - if he could build a meeting house for these locals, he could build one for the Kayi as well. Maybe one day he would be remembered as Osman the Builder.

0401 to All

Greetings to all. Chief Spitting Bull of the Wohali would like to announce the creation of our very first Tribal Anthem.

There is a man among us whose stench is beyond approach and who utters strange words which either nauseate or entice the senses. We invented a title for this man--"poet"--and tasked him with writing for our humble people an anthem, as he is completely useless at anything besides playing with words and drinking our ale.

"We are the Wohali:
Sharp as the eagle,
Innocent as the deer,
Cunning as the monkey,
Yet vengeful as the bear.

"A Wohali child yearns for the seas from the day they are born,
and befriends many men on his path through life.
But to those who threaten the Wohali's woman or mead,
he will repay his deeds five fold, and piss in his moccasins."
